★ What is PAX Next Steps?

PAX Next Steps trainings help teachers who have already been trained in the PAX Good Behavior Game® (GBG) to further expand and integrate strategies. PAX Next Steps supports teachers in recalibrating classroom implementation to improve outcomes by meeting the unique needs of teachers and students using PAX strategies.

PAXIS Institute™ offers two distinct Next Steps trainings to support PAX teachers in improving implementation. These trainings guide teachers in successfully integrating PAX strategies into contemporary educational initiatives.

Choose a focus from one of the following policy areas:

PAX Next Steps: PBIS / Multi-tiered System of Supports

This training demonstrates how to integrate PAX strategies into schoolwide PBIS and MTSS initiatives including how to use them as tiered support.

PAX Next Steps: Trauma-informed Classrooms

This training demonstrates how the nurturing environment created by PAX strategies supports a trauma-informed classroom and enhances young people's interpersonal skills.

★ About PAX Next Steps Trainings

PAX Next Steps trainings consist of 6 content hours and include in-depth explorations of the eleven evidence-based strategies that make up the PAX GBG through the lens of the selected training content area. Participants in training leave with knowledge, skills, and resources to enhance their implementation of PAX GBG in their school setting.

This training is available in live virtual and in-person formats.

★ Resources for PAX Teachers

Participants who complete PAX Next Steps training will revisit the new PAX teacher resources available on paxis.org. Additionally, PAX teachers have access to the PAX UP! App and ongoing support through virtual monthly PAX Support Sessions designed to support and improve implementation.
